Richard Croade.

Nov. 1, 1679..Ann, relict of Tom (1) Cole made her will:-

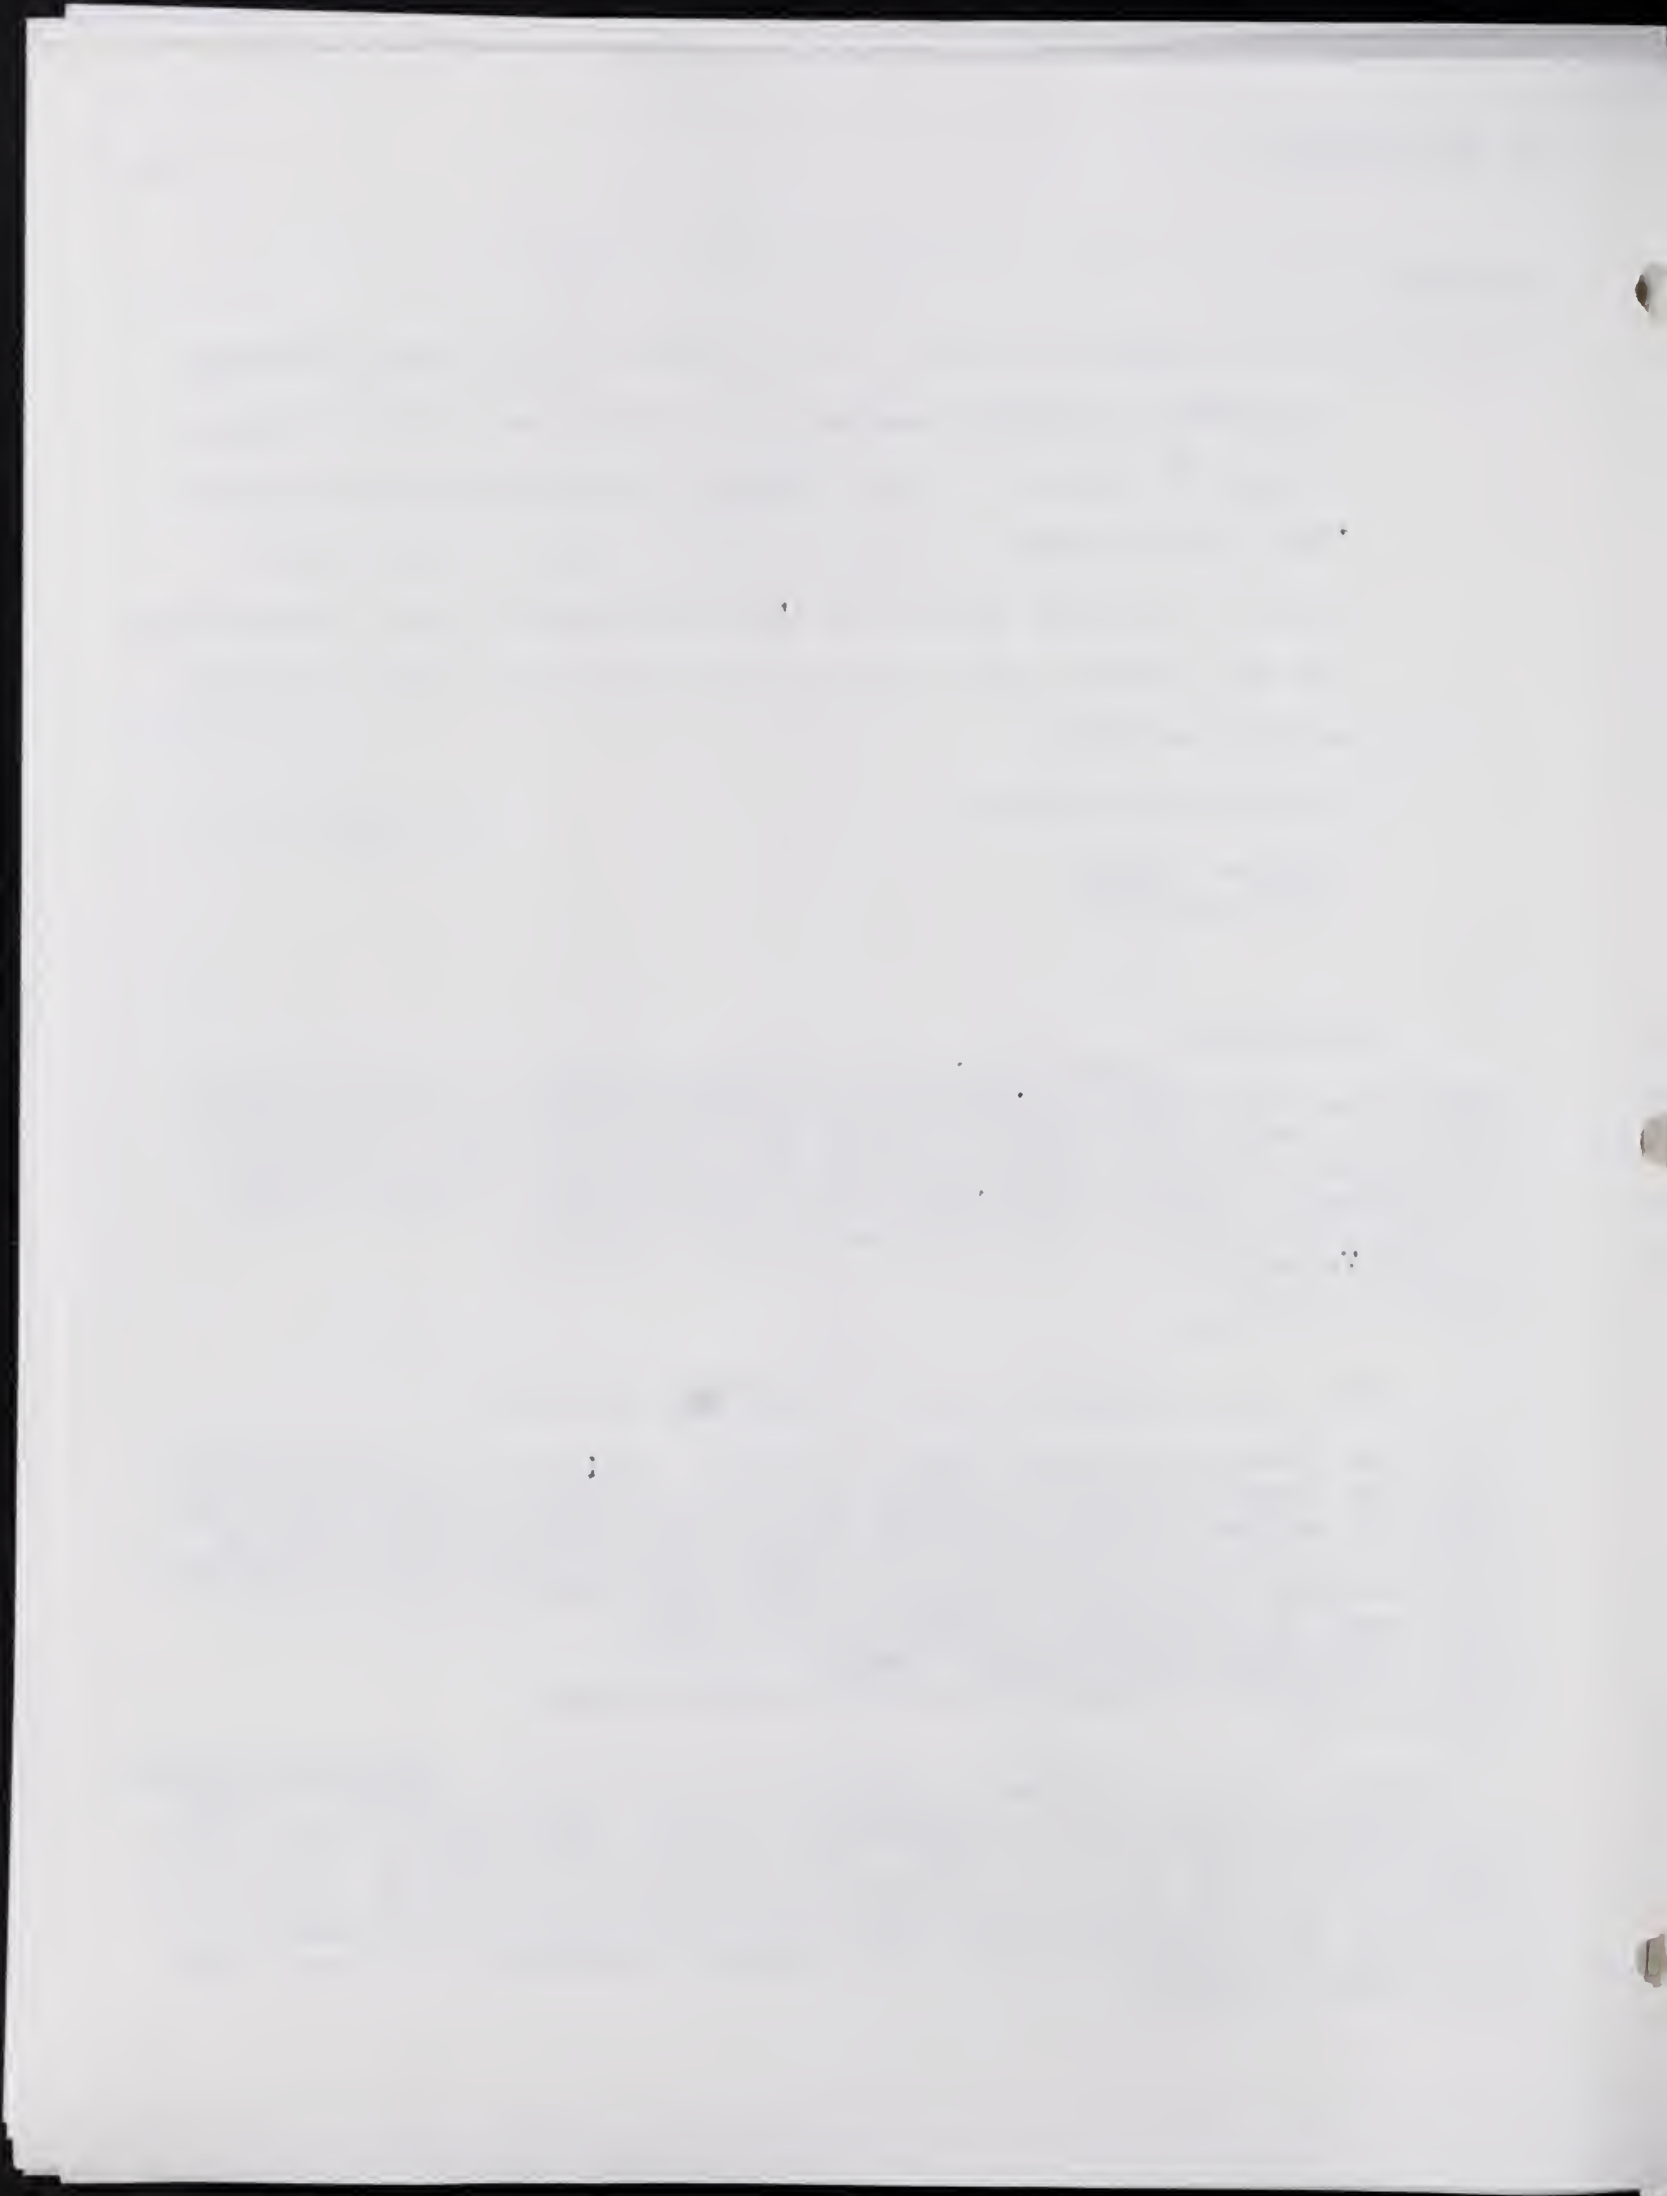

" I am at present, under God's visitation, sick and weak.. well knowing my husband's mind, the estate is to be divided between 2 children, Abraham, the eldest, 10^l he has already received of Jonathan Corwin from a fund of 45^l for the sale of Northfield to Corwin.. Abraham was to have the land and homestead, and John to have the old house and land under it. All goods were to be divided between the two sons.

Exec. Ed. Batters and Hilliard Veren.

Witnesses, Frances Chard; Dorcas Rist; Richard Croade.

Probate 1680.

Kimball Cole was adopted by Ephraim Foster, "bachelor," and a cousin to Kimball's mother, Mehitabel (Barker), on the Barker side. Maybe there was a romance there. In his will, made July 8, 1806, Ephraim leaves to Kimball Cole "all land and buildings in Boxford and Andover not disposed of; all live stock and farm tools, and all estate not disposed of, he to pay the legacies named at the periods named (from 3-5 years) and to be sole executor.

The COLE FAMILY

Will of Ephraim Foster.
July 8, 1806.

He gave to eldest brother, John, the cedar swamp, the lower pasture and lower meadow and the woodlot he bought from Isaac Carleton, and the right of way.

To his brother, William, 1/4 of his money; to brother, John, 1/4; to sister, Dorcas, wife of Mark Averill, and sister Debora, wife of Paul Averill, another 1/4 to divide; to sister Judith Foster and niece Dorcas, (daughter of brother John and Dorcas Towne,) the 1/4 remaining to divide between them. (Dorcas later married Alfred Kimball.)

Judith was to have the West room in the house; fire wood cut and brought to the door; the use of the chaise and a horse to go in it, whenever she wanted to ride; 1 cow to be kept for her all the year; the use of the oven in the other part of the house; the use of the well; the best chest... To Dorcas Foster, a feather-bed and bedding and a case of drawers... To nephew, Joseph, $400; to Lemuel Woods, Jr., $40, to help in his education; to Jonas, son of his brother, John, $400; to Moody, son of John, $400 - to go to his father in case he dies; To Ephraim, son of Mark Averill (a nephew) $100; to Mina Foster, $100; to Phebe and Dorcas Towne, sisters of his late wife, all the house furniture not disposed of. "If his sisters, Esther and Rebecca" come again into these parts" some portion to be given to them. His clothes to his brothers, Wm. and John. All the rest to Kimball Cole, as per page 10.

Deeds-

373:62-3..... Will of Samuel (4) Cole, July 29, 1793. To son, Simeon (5) all the land and buildings - "my part & live in - except the horse-pasture" of 12 acres. To Dan, Sol, Phineas, Eliph., Sam and Simeon sons, all personals, and wearing apparel.

To Solomon, Phineas and Eliphalet, 6 $\frac{1}{2}$, 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ sn. 6d. each; to daughters: Mary Emerson, Rebecca Morse, Martha Silver, Margaret Spofford and Bethia Blood, 20 $\frac{1}{2}$ each; to g-son Asa Cole, son of Ben, dec., 5 sn.

Simeon, executor.

Lemuel Wood; Frances Wood; Josiah Hovey, witnesses.)

So Solomon Cole went away to Landaft, N.H. and died there and the estate of Ephraim Foster went to Kimball Cole. Kimball died Jan. 16, 1822. His estate is appraised by Amos Kimball, Jr., of Boxford, Simeon Foster and John Foster of Andover, April 16, 1822. Abigail, the widow is executor.

Abigail claims that she is entitled to $\frac{1}{3}$ of the estate, by legacy and she and her son, Ephraim Foster Cole ask for a division. This is made in 1831, nine years after the death of her husband.

In the will of Kimball Cole, widow Abigail is to have the use and improvement of all the estate until his son, Ephraim Foster Cole is 21. If Eph dies before that, until son John, is 21, -if she remains a widow. To his 4 daughters, Sarah Foster, Rebecca and Menitabel Barker and Abigail, \$200 each, when they are 21; if unmarried after 21, they are to have the use of the West room, cellar, oven and well; right of way; apples and fire-wood, from the woodlot. Widow Abigail is to have all the housegoods for life and $\frac{1}{3}$ the estate, and at her death, the daughters are to share the goods, and her clothes.

"To son Eph Foster Cole, my Kimball pasture in Boxford near Jona. Foster," and farm tools- $\frac{2}{3}$ of these at 21; mother to have $\frac{1}{3}$ which will go to Eph at her death. "Eph is to pay my debts, 1st in money; 2nd in live stock; 3rd in land, if needed, at the discretion of the exec." Abigail is to sell if she see fit... To 3 sons, Eph, John and Wm. the rest of the real estate not disposed of. She is to have the use of the estate undivided until each is 21. In 1830 Eph was 21, so wants ~~xx~~ his division. the 3 boys divide the estate after legacies are paid. Moody and Debora Kimball.

Will made Nov. 14, 1821.

John Foster, witnesses.

Note--

When John Beebe made his will in 1650 on a voyage over here, he left his children in the care of two friends,one of whom was John Cole.After Rebecca Beebe arrived she went to Hartford to marry John Rusco-(maybe later spelled ROSCOE) of Norwalk,Conn. I have always wondered who this John Cole could have been.

Rather oddly, in the line of John Cole (2) of Salem, from Thomas(1)- we have in the 8th generation in Andover,ROSCOE KIMBALL COLE, born here 1861.

During the "evolution our line here was in New Hampshire, and may have borrowed the name from the Norwalk line. Was it perhaps one of the family connections of Beebe and Cole, this ROSCOE stock in 1650? CHA.

When James (5) Cornell died in Wilmington, 1832, he left a small estate of $ 316; a two and a half acre plot, live stock, crops, including buckwheat and potatoes. He lent freely, and over 700 on notes was due the estate. His widow, Polly, (Clark) was appointed guardian of the children. She came here in 1832, when John, her youngest son, was two years old.

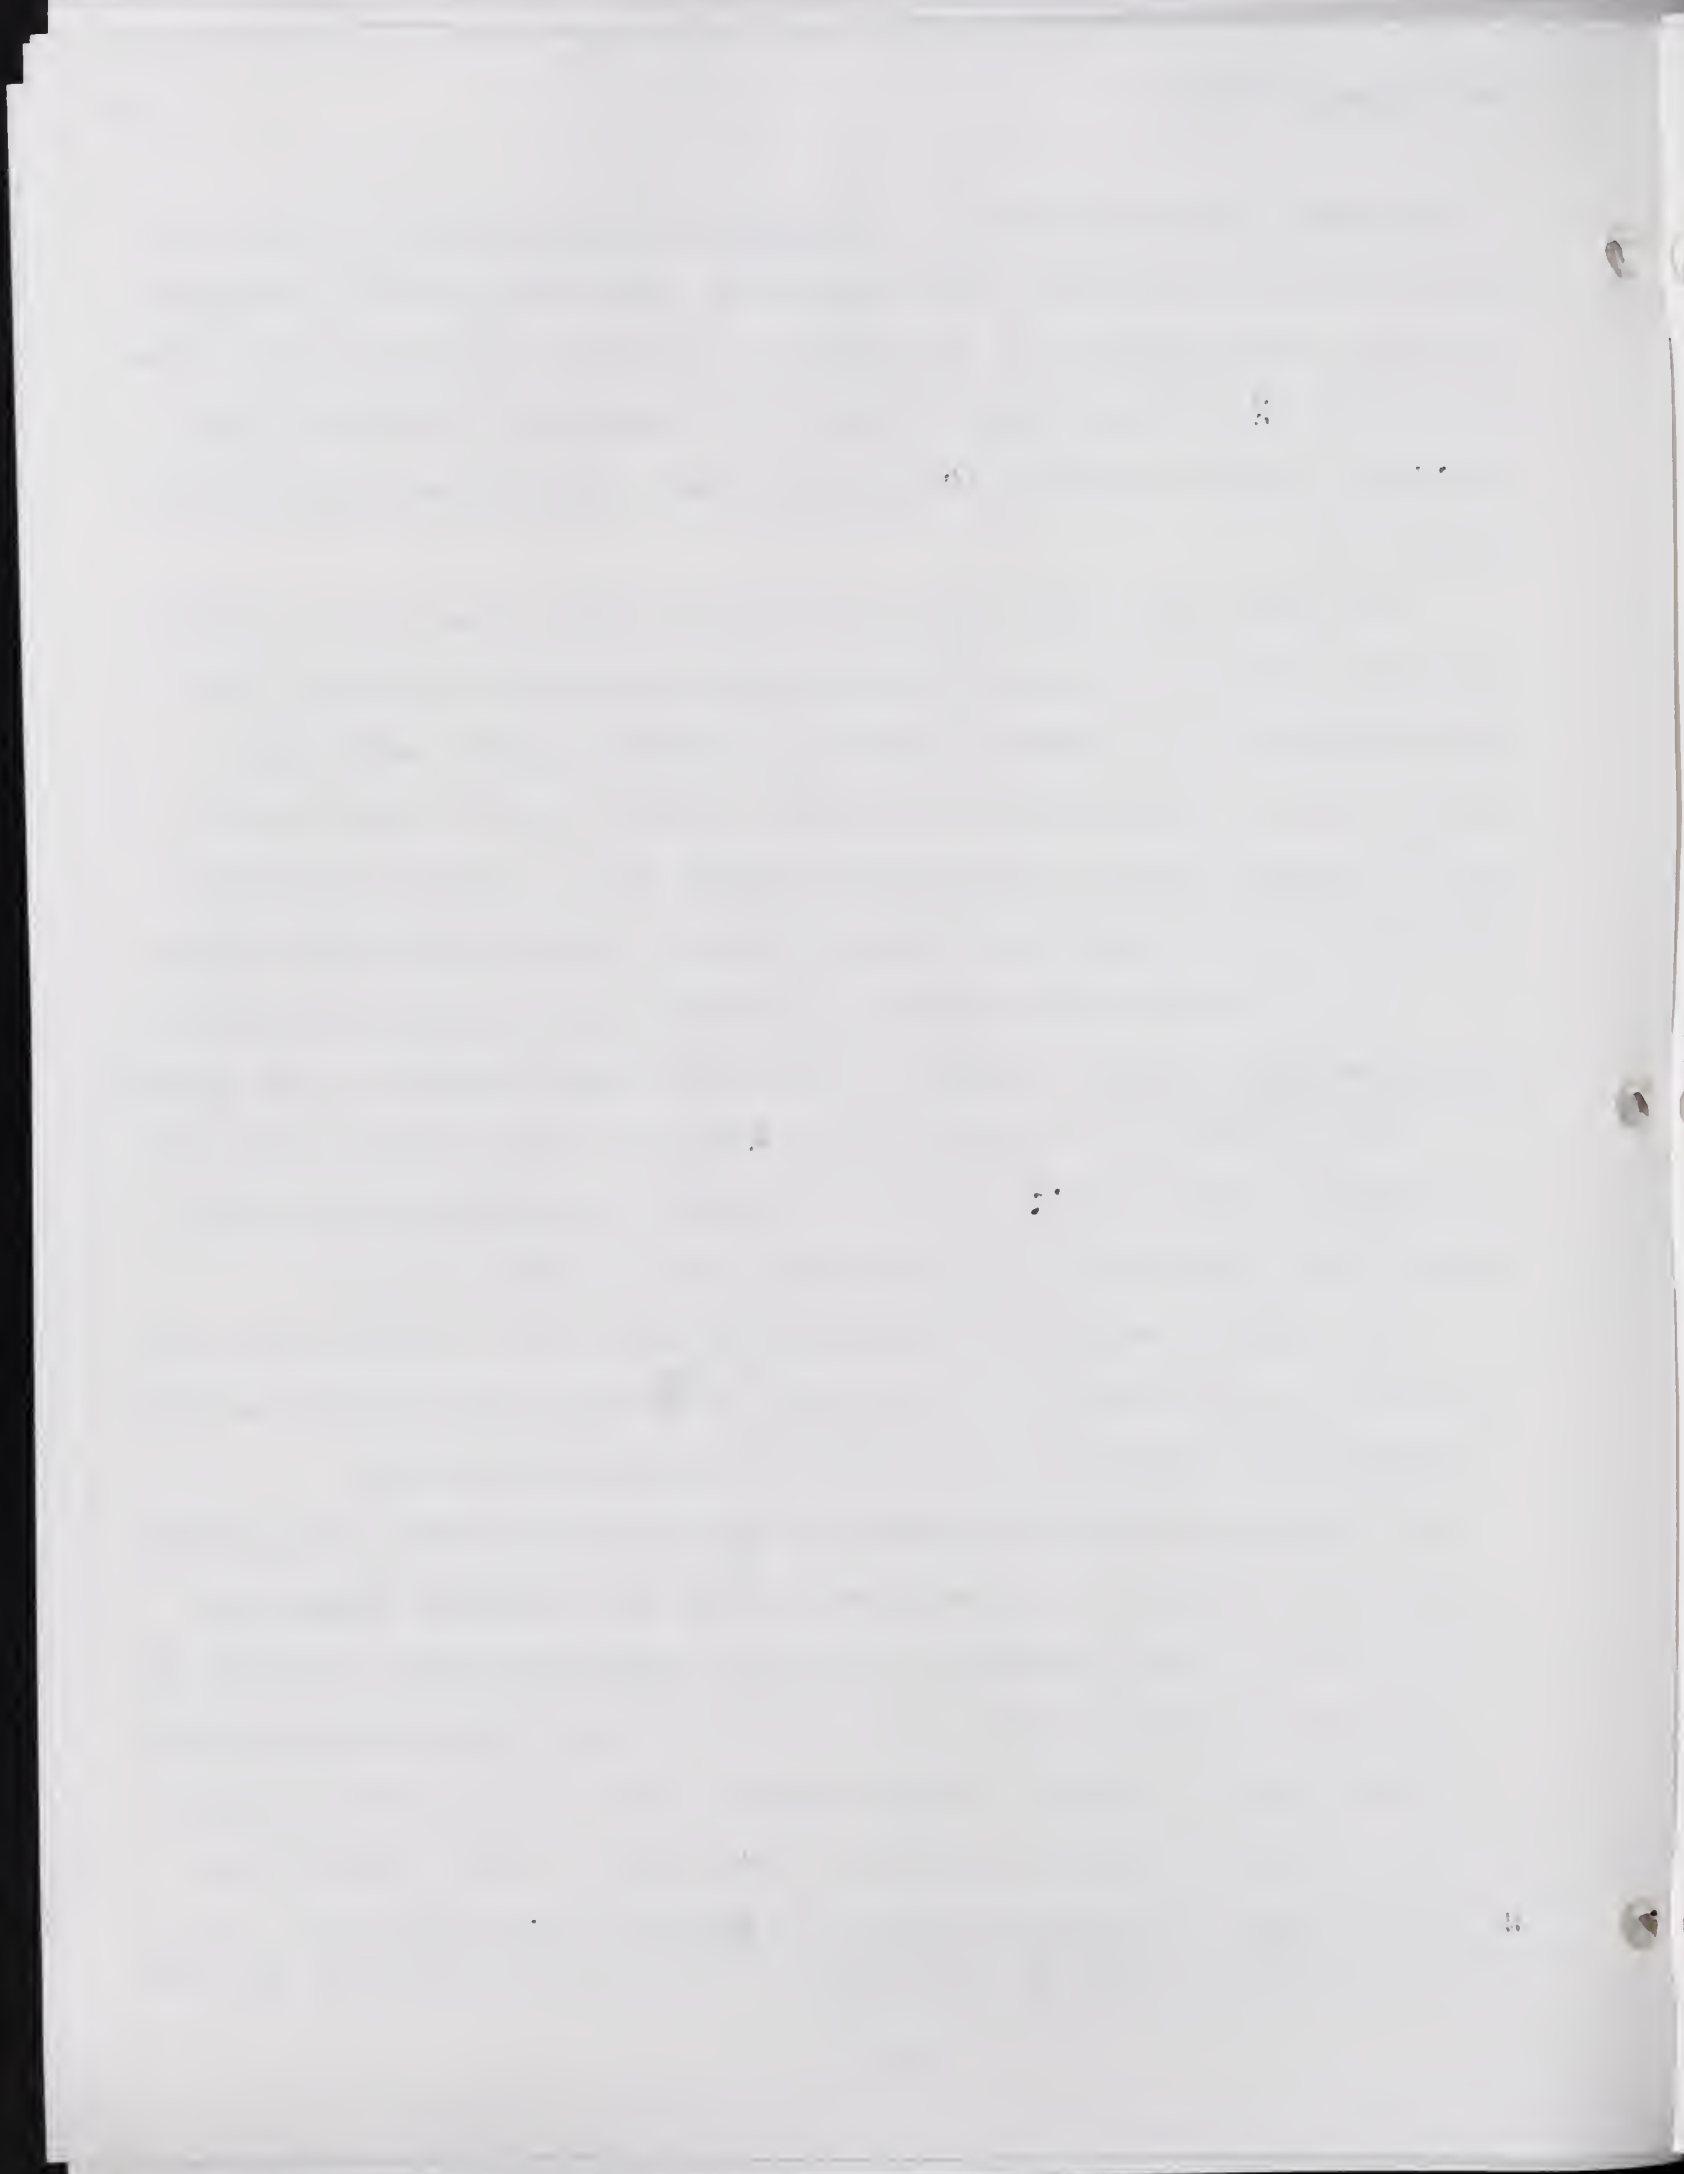

The first house they had was an old one near Major Lowers, evidently the one old Ben Ames occupied before he built his tavern. It stood next the R.R. tracks. Later, Mrs. Cornell moved across the street to the Sweeny place, so called- the one with the brick basement. When the Boston & Maine came through she brought a suit for damages and got enough from them to buy the house in which she died.

This home was last owned by Clark and J.R. Murray, at the corner of Harding and Main street. It was moved from farther up the street, by the B. and M. R.R.

Mary Cornell, who later married Marshall Blood, stayed with her grandfather, James Cornell, on his homestead in Wilmington until he died in 1837, when she was 15; she then came to Andover also.

Mrs. Cornell was an old-fashioned milliner, and she made over and bleached the straw bonnets of the Town, years ago. Her husband had been a carpenter and worked on the locks of the Middlesex Canal.

Her son, John, worked for Derby in the provision store. Being frail and not very strong, he was advised to take up horseback riding. He bought a horse, then horses and went into partnership with Mayberry in a stable, on the Memorial Hall lots. After the big fire, he went to the Elm House stables. He was in the Coal and Wood business for 30 years. He loved Art and books. In his will, made 1888, he left $ 5000 for a Historical and Fine Art collection, to Memorial Hall; $5000 for a P.A. scholarship; $3000 to Abbott Academy for a scholarship; $5000 to the Town to supply coal and fuel to the poor.

THE CROSBY FAMILY of ANDOVER

SIMON CROSBY, age 26, with wife, Ann, 25, sailed on April 18, 1634, in the "Sara and Ellen" for the Colonies. He took oath March 3, 1635. He was a Selectman from 1636-8 and had a home on Brattle St., Cambridge, near the Square, in Aug. 1637. He died at 31, in Sept. 1639. Widow Ann, took for a second husband, Rev. W. Thompson of Braintree, before 1646. (Rev. Thompson was a missionary to the Indians of Virginia, and his first wife died while he was away.) Neither were thrifty, and he had a difficult time collecting back salary. The church had to help him collect his debts. Ann died Oct. 11, 1675 at 66 and was buried in Hancock Cemetery, Braintree. Rev. Thompson died Dec. 10, 1666 and was buried in Quincy. In 1707, the Crosby estate passed to the Rev. Wm. Brattle, and the Brattle House stood on the site of the Crosby home.

Simon (1) and wife, Ann, had:-

Selectman, 1668; 88; 1697; 99; 1701. According to records, "1686-- Simon Crosby, who formerly hath kept a house of public entertainment doth now refuse to hold it any longer, and "athan Tory is allowed." But Crosby accepted again in 1688 and electmen continued to victual with him. His inn-holder's license was filed at Cambridge. Some of the charges in the Town books for refreshment at his inn were :- "14 pt. cyder; 2 pt. liquor; 4 suppers 10d.; drink, 4 d.; 2 pott cyder; pot of roasted cyder; half pt. of Rhum. He was first chosen to be inn keeper in 1672. In Jan. 24, 1675, Wm. Hamblett deposes that Simon Crosby was too ill to serve in the Indian war and full symptoms are described. (Looks like a plain belly-ache to me.) Savage said that his line spread to Me., N.H. and Mass.

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the study and the objectives of the research. It also mentions the scope of the study and the limitations. The second part of the paper discusses the methodology used in the study. It mentions the data sources and the statistical methods used. The third part of the paper discusses the results of the study. It mentions the findings and the conclusions. The fourth part of the paper discusses the implications of the study. It mentions the policy implications and the future research.

The study found that there is a significant positive relationship between the independent variable and the dependent variable. The results also show that the control variables have a significant effect on the dependent variable. The study concludes that the findings are consistent with the previous research. The study also suggests that further research is needed to explore the relationship between the independent variable and the dependent variable.

The study has several limitations. First, the study is based on a cross-sectional design, which limits the ability to establish causality. Second, the study is based on self-reported data, which may be subject to bias. Third, the study is limited to a specific population, which may not be representative of the general population.

The study has several implications. First, the study suggests that the independent variable has a significant effect on the dependent variable. This finding has important implications for policy makers. Second, the study suggests that the control variables have a significant effect on the dependent variable. This finding has important implications for researchers.

The study is a contribution to the literature on the relationship between the independent variable and the dependent variable. It provides new evidence on the relationship between the independent variable and the dependent variable. The study also suggests that further research is needed to explore the relationship between the independent variable and the dependent variable.

The homestead of Jonathan (5) Cummings, b. Oct. 14, 1743; ^{who} married Mary Eastman of Pembroke, N.H. July 1766 and ^{2nd.} widow Mary Parker, Dec. 1802, was, according to Alice Gray, (who wrote to C.H.A. May 1, 1919) the old Eben Jenkins House that Darcy bought and later tore down. She continues: "There used to be, at the corner of Holt St. and Wildwood Rd., a little east of the front of the house where Converse now lives, either an old cider mill or blacksmith shop, so Eben Jenkins has told me. At the junction of the two roads, it might have been either.

I remember the old homestead, with the rocks etc., which later, Mr. Darcy smoothed over for a lawn. A picture of the Eben Jenkins' house is in the first collection of Andover views that John Cole published and Mrs. Kendall Jenkins, Eben's daughter, probably has one."

Peter Cummings married Abigail Haggett, March 21, 1780. May get probate of Peter at Salem. A widow, Abigail, married Ezekiel Hardy, Oct. 22, 1801.

 Hanna Cummings m. Sam Wardwell, Aug. 23, 1792. She may have been sister to the Peter, above. Peter, I think, was a brother to the Jonathan who m. Mary Eastman, of Pembroke.
